Date of Publication:	October 10, 2011

Key Characteristics of the Change:

Transport Media

Forecasted Key Milestones:

Date Customer Must be Ready to Receive Post-Conversion Material:	Oct 25, 2011
---	---------------------

Description of Change to the Customer:

The Intel Ethernet Controller I350-BT2, NHI350BT2 MM#915804 (Powerville Tray) will undergo the following change:

Intel is updating the tray used on the NHI350BT2 (Powerville) controller from Kostat to Daewon to streamline the supply chain.

Customer Impact of Change and Recommended Action:

Customers will be able to see the supplier name on the edge of the tray. The trays are not interchangeable (compatible or stackable), therefore Intel will not mix the Kostat and Daewon trays within one shipment. Over the next year, customers may receive either or (but not both) trays in a shipment.

Customers may receive either Kostat or Daewon trays with their orders of MM 915804, though over time, Intel will fully migrate to Daewon.

Customers may choose to update their documentation to be ready to receive either/both Kostat or Daewon trays. Again, please note, the trays are not interchangeable. Intel will not ship an order with both types of trays in one shipment.
